A LITTLE ABOUT TODAY'S SPEAKER

Brent Nickles is the co-founder of JDS1 Marketing and the founder of Dental SEO Pros. He is an SEO specialist and a leader known for managing complex projects and building high-performing teams.

Before launching his businesses, Brent spent nearly two decades overseeing major commercial construction projects valued in the billions of dollars, including the New Meadowlands Stadium in New Jersey, the Comcast Center in Philadelphia, the U.S. Census Bureau headquarters in Washington, D.C., and projects in Waikiki.

Today, Brent helps businesses get found online through SEO, digital marketing, and growth strategy. His clients have included well-known influencers, real estate investment groups, dentists, and dozens of growing local businesses across the country.

A mechanical engineer by education, Brent is a husband, a father of six, and an avid snowboarder and surfer. He believes radical transparency is the foundation of great leadership and lasting business success.
